7. In John 9:1-5, Jesus heals a man who was born blind. His disciples wanted to know which of the man's parents, or if the man himself committed sin, that he was born blind. What can we say is true about how Jesus viewed this situation?
  - A. Jesus rejected the notion that sin was the cause
  - B. He wanted them to focus on the healing of the man as a point of witness to God's work
  - C. This healing was for the glorification of God
  - D. All the above

8. This spectacular healing of the man born blind caused quite a stir among his neighbors and others when they heard. What was their reaction? (Choose all that apply):
  - A. Some of them thought it wasn't the blind beggar they all knew, but was really someone else
  - B. They questioned him over and over about how his eyes were opened
  - C. They wanted to know where Jesus was
  - D. They brought the healed man to the Pharisees

9. In the face of this undeniable miracle the man was questioned yet again, this time by the Pharisees. This resulted in division among them, some saying Jesus was not of God because by healing this man, He broke the sabbath, and others saying a man who was a sinner could not do such signs and miracles.
  - A. True
  - B. False

10. The Jews didn't believe the healed man had ever really been blind at all, so they questioned his parents. What did his parents do and say? (Choose all that apply):
